

Dávid Fellegi was born on August 6th of 1995 in Pécs. He started studying the guitar at the age of 8 in Erika Sára's class. He entered numerous competitions where he won numerous prizes. In 2010, he was accepted to the High School of Arts of Pécs where he continued his studies with Tamás Straub. He started showing interests in composition, music theory and solfège, so he visited private classes to learn more about them. During this time, he took part in a lot of festivals, masterclasses and competitions. In 2014, he graduated with distinctions, and at the same time he got accepted to the Franz Liszt Academy of Music with the maximum score to study in Professor András Csáki's and Professor József Eötvös's studio. After he finished his Bachelor studies with honors, he got accepted in the Master studies in the same institution, what he finished in the summer of 2019. His desire is to be a well-accomplished artist both in the classical and jazz fields as well, while pursuing the career of becoming a university professor.
