

Born in Dortmund (Germany), where he took the state exam for the teaching of music, Wolfgang Lehmann completed his higher artistic education by achieving the “Künstlerische Reifeprüfung”.

He followed courses of high specialization and other courses at E. Fisk, R. Aussel, S. Assad and O. Ferriera, which marked his artistic career. During his career, Lehmann developed his particular fondness for Spanish and Latin American music.

In recent years, he has held numerous concerts both in his own country and abroad and is also active in theatrical, opera and record productions. Together with the cellist Felicitas Stephan he recorded a record entitled “Sonho Brasileiro” at the Fono. The second edition of this CD is published by Cello Colors.
